BOND ISSUE IS DISPOSED OF

At an adjourned meeting of the borough council, held Thursday evening, in the borough building, several matters of importance were taken up and acted upon. Among these items were the sale of the municipal bonds recently authorized by council, and the matter of a license fee for the carnival now exhibiting on the local ball grounds.

Mr. Sperry, representing Holmes, Bulkley & Wardrop, of Pittsburgh, was present and made an offer to take the entire issue of the $40,000, 4 1/2 per cent bonds recently authorized, the proceeds of which will be devoted to paying off indebtedness on the borough building. Mr. Sperry offered $10,000 for the bonds, and council accepted the proposal. These securities will be turned over at once to the Pittsburgh house, and the proceeds made available as soon as all details have been disposed of.

On the recommendation of the Board of Health, R. D. Hill was elected to fill the vacancy in the Board caused by the resignation of George Leith.

The carnival question was then taken up and discussed at some length, after which a motion was offered that the committee of the L. O. O. M. representing the carnival now being held in the borough this week be required to take out a permit and the amount of the license fee to be returned to above committee to be applied to the purchase of a police patrol for the borough. This motion was debated at some length, after which it was approved, those voting in favor of it being Messrs. Duvall, VanVoorhis and President Swickey, while Hein and Moody voted in the negative.

After taking action on some other matters of less moment council adjourned.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED THURSDAY

Miss Anna Cocain entertained a number of girl friends at her home at Lock Four Thursday evening. Games and music formed the evening's entertainment. During the latter part of the evening the guests were summoned to the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with sweet peas and tiny bells of pink and white. Lunch was served and announcement was made of the engagement of the hostess to E. Ellsworth Hickey of Charleroi.

BEING TRIED FOR FIRST DEGREE MURDER

Gust Calagas, of Donora, was put on trial in criminal court at Washington on Thursday before Judge McIlvaine on a charge of murder. He was indicted for the murder of Peter Stoycoff a baker of Donora on October 7, 1918. Stoycoff, on the morning of that date, was found in his hakeshop dead, having been beaten to death with some blunt instrument. The defendant was arrested shortly afterwards and held for the crime.

The Commonwealth will depend entirely on circumstantial evidence to secure a conviction of murder in the first degree. There apparently being no witnesses to the crime. A pick handle, alleged to be the weapon that was used, will figure in the cases. This pick handle was found under a small outhouse not far from the Stoycoff bakery. This pick handle, which had blood stains upon it, the Commonwealth will endeavor to show, belonged to the defendant. The fact some length, after which it was approved, those voting in favor of it being Messrs. Duvall, VanVoorhis and President Swickey, while Hein and Moody voted in the negative.

The case being one of first degree murder the defendant was put through the usual form of arraignment. He clearly replied that he was not guilty, when he was asked if he was "guilty or not guilty." All Thursday afternoon was taken up in selecting a jury.

URGES PUBLIC TO BUY COAL EARLY

President Taylor at the meeting of the National Coal Association now being held in Chicago, gave a solemn warning to the public to buy coal now, citing a 50,000,000 ton shortage in a bituminous and 8,000,000 tons of anthracite up to June 1st, a shortage of 40,000 miners and the burden on transportation facilities.

BURGLAR BUSY ON M'KEAN AVENUE

The store of S. Barthelot, at 225 McKean avenue, was entered early Thursday morning and a quantity of pennies taken from the moneydrawer. The burglar had gained entrance through the kitchen window, passing through the dining room into the store in front, where he opened the money drawer and secured the pennies. He was heard by Mrs. Barthelot who got up and roused her husband, but the burglar evidently heard them for he made his escape before being seen. The print of a bare foot on the rear porch indicated that the burglar had taken off his shoes before making entrance into the building. The robbery was similar in kind to the one which took place on Lock hill before 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

McCord, campaign director, that the national total is now $70,293,000. Reports by Districts in the Pittsburg Conference are: Allegheny county, $1,380,475; Beaver Valley, $116,137; Butler, $82,753; McKeesport outside Allegheny county, $151,971; Blairsville, $380,049; Washington, $261,979; Conference total, $2,373,264.

Frank Kirkpatrick. The teams representing the First Methodist Episcopal church of Charleroi, with two making no report, had up until Thursday evening, secured pledges amounting to $3,462.42. The pledge of the local church is $4,000, and team captains are confident of reaching this goal by the time the campaign closes on Sunday evening next.

THE CENTENARY A TEST

The individual church, State or Nation cannot know its strength until it has been tested or proved. Two men were once talking together about a man in their community to whom financial misfortune had just come. Each had expressed his sympathy in words; but one felt that words were not enough. So he took a five dollar bill from his pocket and said to the other, "This is the measure of my sympathy and love." To this test the other made no response, but Continued on page 4.

LAD KILLED BY A LAKE ERIE TRAIN

Andy Arlow, an eight-year-old boy of Fayette City was struck and fatally injured by a train on the P. & L. E. railroad Tuesday evening. John Samuels and the Arlow boy had wandered from their homes in Fayette City Tuesday afternoon and were playing about the coal tipples south of that town. Towards evening they started home, the little Arlow boy walking the track, when the Lake Erie passenger train northbound and due shortly after six o'clock rounded a curve, struck him and fractured his skull. The boy was thrown a distance of about twenty feet clear of the wheels of the train. The engine brought the train to a stop and the lad placed on board with a view of having him taken to a hospital. However, when the train reached Belle Vernon the boy had died. At Monessen the body was taken from the train and sent to the morgue of Wright Brothers, from where later it was taken home by the distracted mother.

STEEL CO. APPEALS FROM ASSESSMENT

The Pittsburg Steel Company by its attorney on Thursday, filed an appeal in the Court of Common Pleas of Westmoreland County from the $2,950,000 valuation placed on its plant in Monessen. The statement declares that from 1916-18 inclusive the assessed valuation of the plant was $1,300,000 and that the local assessor fixed the valuation for 1919 at $1,950,000.

When the Westmoreland county commissioners sat as the Board of Revision in March, the Monessen assessor's figures were given an additional boost of $1,000,000. This statement says, is an increase of 127 per cent in three years and is exorbitant.

The First Presbyterian church will hold a box social in the gymnasium of the high school on Thursday evening May 22. Good boxes, good looking girls and a general good time assured. Everybody invited. 296t2*

Enthusiastic Meeting Listens To Address Of A. W. Johns

TO JOIN IN MEMORIAL SERVICE

The returned soldiers, sailors and Marines of the Charleroi district held an enthusiastic meeting last night in the Charleroi Savings and Trust Company hall. There were several out of town men attended and many new members were added to the roll.

The principal event of the evening was a very interesting talk given by Mr. A. W. Johns, Borough Engineer, of Monessen, formerly a Lieutenant in the army. He explained the organization formed by the delegates to the convention of the American Legion at St. Louis. He read the preamble and extracts from the National Constitution submitted to the Convention. Mr. Johns was the only representative from Western Pennsylvania outside of Pittsburgh, attending the convention, and he is one of the Executive Committee of the Legion in Pennsylvania. He explained that the American Legion hopes to secure as members every soldier, sailor or marine who served in the United States Government between the time of the declaration of war and the signing of the Armistice, excepting those who were dishonorably discharged from the service and the conscientious objectors.

The enthusiasm which Mr. Johns had for the new organization was contagious, and the men present quickly became enthused for the American Legion and means for getting in communication with the Pennsylvania organizers were secured. The local men hope to be among the first to get a Post in the new organization. The members present expressed a desire to have every discharged soldier, sailor and marine in the Charleroi district get into the organization when it applies for a charter. A membership committee was appointed to secure names of men who want to identify themselves with it. On this com- (Continued on Page 4)

THE NEW CONGRESS

A heritage of unpaid bills amounting to hundreds of millions even to billions of dollars, is left for the new Congress to meet. The problem of getting the telegraph and telephone services back to their owners is left to the new Congress. The problem of saving the railroads is left to the new Congress. The problem of repealing crazy-patch tax schedules is left to the new Congress. The problem of enacting a revenue measure which will clean up those gigantic unpaid bills while taking care of the current requirements of the Government is left to the new Congress. The problem of safeguarding the fresh industries which we were compelled to set up during the war is left to the new Congress. The problem of putting the United States Government back on a working business basis is left to the new Congress.

The new Congress under the leadership which will now take charge, can do these things, must do them. But while it is doing them it should not fail to give the needed time, energy and ability to digging out and holding up before the eyes of the American people the glibly facts of the continued incompetence and incurable mismanagement, after as during and before the war of the present administration and the last Congress—New York Sun.

MOTORS AND MONEY

In the United States there is one automobile to every eighteen persons; in Canada there is one for every 25; in Australia one for every 100, in England one for every 268; in France one in 402; in Italy, one in 1,002; Mexico one in 2,335, and in China one in 207,207.

The automobile is an emblem and barometer of wealth. It is most ubiquitous in the newly settled regions of the earth and rarest where civilization is oldest. Chinese may shy from automobiles because of Chinese conservatism. The lads where automobiles are the most common—America, Canada, Australia—are lands populated by colonists and colonists are people who have initiative, otherwise they would not leave their homes and countries to colonize. They have energy and ambition, be-taken by the same act. Their descendants inherit their qualities. And they are not distinguished for thrift. Thrift is the outstanding characteristic of those people who struggle to keep their expenditures within their incomes. The American's struggle is to bring his income up to his expenditure.

William Allen White recently wrote "America's inextricable entanglement in Europe as the world's money lender makes retirement impossible, however desirable." A good many people have been coming to the conclusion that this is a better explanation of a lot of the things that have been happening at Paris than the soulful rhapsodies that have been emanating from other sources.

Viereck's American Weekly, formerly The Fatherland, now becomes Viereck's American Monthly. In the interest of the appropriate there should be still another change, omitting "American," a term which the editor has not demonstrated his right to claim.

GRAVE PROBLEM FACES GAS MEN

More Stringent Laws for Conservation of Present Supply or Creating Plants to Supply Various Municipalities With Manufactured Gas Are Questions Which Confront Delegates at Convention.

Cleveland, this week, is the mecca for natural gas men from all over the country. This convention bids fair to be an epoch making one, for the reason that the depletion of natural gas in the known territory, is presenting a grave problem to gas men, along the line either of more stringent laws for the conservation of the present supply or for the creating of plants to supply various municipalities with manufactured gas.

Ray C. Knick, President of The Natural Gas Association of America, sounded the keynote of the convention when he made an appeal for greater co-operation between the people and the companies distributing gas. He said:

"No starved horse ever pulled a heavy load, and natural gas companies facing prevailing high costs and increasing investments cannot continue extensive drilling operations if their present restricted earnings brought about by depletion are to be still further restricted."

"There must be real co-operation, and that very promptly, between municipal officials and company officials if the public's supply and the gas service is to be safeguarded."

Prof. Brownocker, State Geologist and member of the faculty of Ohio State University, issued a warning to gas men to be prepared for what is coming. He said:

It would be very gratifying to tell this audience, which is meeting in the chief city of Ohio, that the outlook for a future supply of natural gas in the State is bright; but the evidence, both practical and theoretical, indicates the reverse. It is well to repeat at this place the fact that Ohio now produces only about 40 per cent of the gas which she consumes, and she must continue to look elsewhere and at an increasing rate for a gas supply.

It may be well to state first one or two propositions that are axiomatic to natural gas producers: The quantity of natural gas in the rocks is limited, as is coal, and when a cubic foot of gas is removed from the rock the supply is depleted to that extent just as with coal when a given quantity has been mined. Moreover, natural gas, like coal, is not now being produced. In fact these fuels were formed ages ago and we are rapidly consuming what many thousands or hundreds of thousands of years were necessary to produce.

Attorney Freeman T. Egelson, Ex-Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives and former Attorney to The Public Service Commission of Ohio, after a short history of the natural gas industry, made an appeal for co-operation from the courts and legislative commissions to overlook temporary low gas rates and build a future substantial foundation by giving gas companies a fair compensation. Otherwise, they would ultimately go to a $1.25 manufactured gas.

Harry J. Hoover, Manager of the Commercial Department of The Union Gas & Electric Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, quoted figures from a number of distributing companies, as to operating costs and wholesale costs of gas. Mr. Hoover's figures indicated that 23.13 cents per thousand cubic feet, or two-thirds of the retail rate, is the average wholesale price paid by distributing companies for gas; and that out of 447,041 customers, 277,262, or 62 per cent, received service at less than actual cost and were liabilities to the company. The cost of carrying them had to be borne by the 33 per cent, or the remaining customers who were self-sustaining.

Thomas B. Gregory, Director of The Bureau of Natural Gas of The United States Fuel Administration, which came into existence during the war, for the purpose of not only conserving the gas supply, but obtaining the greatest efficiency from available gas, made this statement regarding gas conservation:

"One of the best methods of conservation, as experience has taught, is the rate. Where the gas rate is sufficiently high, consumers will put in the necessary appliances to reduce the amount of consumption, and thereby obtain an equal amount of heat with a consumption of less gas, at no greater cost."

Corroborating this statement, J. H. Mada, President of The Central Indiana Gas Company, in his talk, said: "At Winchester, Portland and Union City, Indiana, with a rate of one dollar per thousand prevailing, splendid service is given, fully meeting the demand."

Mr. C. W. Sears, General Field Manager of The Henry M. Dorchester properties, refers to a very effective and equitable method of conserving gas, by a graduated increase in price whereby the smaller consumers pay a lesser rate and the larger consumers an increased rate, resulting in curtailing the amount of gas used by the larger consumers and increases proportionately the amount of gas available for the smaller consumers.

The convention closed with a banquet Wednesday night at the Hollen Hotel.

WILL DEPEND ON STATE REVENUES

Following a conference on Wednesday at Harrisburg with a committee of educators from all parts of the State, which was attended by Dr. Thomas E. Nelson, the new state superintendent of public instruction, Governor Sprout said he hoped to see enacted before long legislation that would give the teachers of the State a substantial increase in salary, averaging about 20 per cent. It all depends on the revenue, said the Governor, who added that the Woodruff bill would be the basis of the legislation and that the matter which has been holding it up was the revenue.

BIG SUM PAID INTO FAYETTE CO. WAR CHEST

The report of the treasurer of the Fayette county war chest up to April 30, 1919, shows that a total of $564,630.51 had been subscribed to the fund, of which amount $262,838.41 had been paid in, and at the date of the report there remained in the hands of the treasurer the sum of $198,539.92. The report shows that the expense of the campaign and of the administration of the fund up to April 30, 1919, had been about 2 per cent of the subscription, an exceedingly modest amount.

Hanging Pictures.

It is easy to make mistakes in the hanging of pictures. Observing the following as a guide, you will make fewer mistakes in this respect. First, a plain paper for the room is almost imperative. This will give you an opportunity to use all the pictures, no matter what they are. Soft grays and terra cotta tones are best for background. Avoid figured and highly-colored papers as these prevent the picture from standing out. Be careful not to tilt the pictures too much. Hang them almost flat.

Light and Dark of Moon.

Popularly, the moon is called new when, after passing the sun, she first becomes visible as a thin crescent. Some persons say the light of the moon is from this time until the moon is full. Others say that the light of the moon is during the few days when the moon appears to be full. The dark of the moon is also thought by some to extend from the full moon until no moon is visible. Popularly, however, the moon is dark during the few days of invisibility when near conjunction with the sun.

The Brute.

Popperton—"The wife has gone shopping and left me in charge of the baby, and I'm blest if I know how to keep the beggar quiet." Grimshaw (after critically regarding the howling juvenile)—"I should think you could easily keep him quiet, both in a vocal and physical way, by gagging him carefully, tying his hands behind his back, bundling his feet together, nailing his clothes to the floor and then administering chloroform to him."

Our Foolish Philosophy.

Cheer up. Why worry? Most anything you do will make somebody glad. If you get sick somebody who don't like you will be pleased about it. If you get well somebody who likes you will feel mighty happy about it. If you die the undertaker is entitled to congratulate you—that is to say, we all have our little moments.—Indianapolis Star.

There are many myths and legends connected with the violet, which has been considered the good luck flower by many nationalities. In some places, English rural folk say a handful of the first violets found should be taken into the farmhouse so good luck will be assured in the hatching of all the baby fowls of the barnyard.

It's a liquid—a wonderful painless formula—it has never been successfully imitated. It settles on the corn, and dries immediately. Instead of digging out the corn, you peel it out painlessly. Restored His Health

It is always interesting to listen to the statement of a friend, especially when you know that he is sincere and honest in what he says. Added interest is created in a statement coming from a man of standing and unquestioned integrity. Such a man is Mr. Thomas Asken of No. 1118 Railroad street, Duquesne, a well known Insurance Agent, who has a wide acquaintance in local business circles in Pittsburgh. He said:

THOMAS ASKEN.

"I have been under treatment for the past year for stomach trouble and my stomach was in such a weak condition that I could hardly keep down the lightest kind of food; I was troubled with gas, bad headaches, terrible indigestion and pains in my back; I was very nervous and scarcely ever able to sleep at night and in the morning would be all tired out and unfit for my work. I had no ambition or energy whatever. Nothing I had taken did me any good until I started to take your Ten-Herbs, and Now I am feeling fine; I sleep well and am able to eat my meals. I am greatly improved in every way since taking Ten Herbs."

Ten-Herbs cleanses, strengthens, and revitalizes the entire system. It clears the blood of poisons and impurities, puts the lazy liver to work, regulates the bowels, strengthens the kidneys and tones up the digestive organs. It sharpens the appetite and promotes sound, restful sleep. Ten-Herbs is sold in Charleroi at Hennings Drug Store.

Mince Pie That Brought Vision of Home Caused Wounded Soldier to Long for Life.

Pie is not among the articles treated of in works on materia medica, but a recent incident shows that it may have therapeutic value. In a hospital lay an American sailor, for whom everything had been done by surgeons, doctors and nurses, and yet something was lacking. He was homesick; his mind was ever away in a little Atlantic coast town. One day, in the midst of his bodily pain and soul suffering, there flashed upon him the object of his quest, and he murmured excitedly: "Oh, if I could only have a piece of mince pie." It was not that he wanted to eat a piece of pie, for he was too ill for that. His hunger was for what the pie represented. An American nurse who heard the wish managed, with some difficulty, to find all the ingredients for a real New England pie. When she took it to him she put with it a bit of cheese, so that nothing would be lacking, and in the cheese she planted a miniature Stars and Stripes. The poor boy could eat neither the pie nor the cheese, but they contributed just the home touch needed to improve his condition. When the wife of the American consul general visited him later she remarked upon the improvement in his condition, and he said: "Two days ago I was in such misery that I could have welcomed death. Now I feel that America is not so far away as I thought and that I have got to hang on."

GENERAL BELIEF IN HONESTY

Something Very Like the Millennium Seems to Be Near in Great British Metropolis.

How is the sudden trust Londoners have come to exhibit for each other to be accounted for? There is an extreme shortage of copper coins for small change in London, and one man says of his experiences: "On several occasions lately news readers who have been unable to change silver have said to me, 'Never mind, pay me the next time you are this way.' Only one of them knew me as a regular customer. Even more unexpected credit than this was offered me at a railway booking office where I tendered a shilling for two-penny fare. The short of coppers," said the girl booking clerk, "may me tomorrow." "But I shall not be here tomorrow," I replied. "Then pay me the next time you are here, whenever it is," she said. "But supposing I forget," I expostulated. "Oh, I know that you will come and pay me some day, she answered. 'I've never known people fail.' Similar testimony is offered by others, who tell of copper credit thrust upon them by strangers, and often very poor and humble strangers.—London Mail.

Clearing Up After War.

On the banks of the Thames, less than twenty miles from London, there is an American town of the mushroom kind such as you might find in a new California oil field. Its population consists of more than 200 white men and about 150 negroes. It covers twenty-five acres which nine months ago were fallow grass land. The business of the town is to receive, sort and store war material. There is a street of wooden huts, an other of corrugated iron huts, huge iron store sheds a quarter of a mile long, office buildings, water supply and electric lights, the whole surrounded by a hedge, a few armed sentries and much mud. All day long the khaki-clad negroes push and haul railway trucks full of war material. War material coming back from Russia is being stored at this camp, also the fittings of the dismantled hospitals which the American army established in England.

Warmth Increases Oil Flow.

An electrical method of carrying warmth to the bottom of oil wells has been found in many cases greatly to increase the flow of oil. The heating process, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, decreases the viscosity of the oil, usually occasioned by the admission of air to the well and the cooling of the rock bed. Minute crevices and capillary channels which afford easy passage to warm, thin oil become quite impassable if the oil gums. The electric heating method not only thins the oil but often generates gas whose pressure helps the oil to the surface. The system found military use in the abandoned oil fields of Roumania and Galicia.

Most readers are familiar with the story of the German bank in a United States city which, finding its name unpopular, changed it to the "Sherman bank." Here is another example on the same lines: A popular New York city German restaurant was called the Kloster Glocke (Cloister Bell), and its front was decorated with a large bell as a sign. The name has been changed to the "Liberty Bell," and the bell of the old monastery now does duty as a replica of the one which rang out independence to the colonies.

Doubts Mechanical Skill.

A "prominent business man" has offered $50,000 for the privilege of being carried as mechanic on the first transatlantic flight made in an airplane. If this offer is accepted, it is to be hoped that his mechanical ability equals his enthusiasm.—Springfield Republican.

LUXURY IN EARLY TRAVEL

"Safety Barges" Instituted for Those Who Feared Hazard of Voyage on Hudson River.

The frequency with which boilers blew up on the early Hudson river boats led to the use of what were known as "safety barges," and these, in their day, were considered the utmost luxury in travel, comparable to the private cars of the magnates of today. The barges were boats with main and upper decks and were almost as large as the steamers which towed them. The rabble rode on the steamers, inhaled the smells of the kitchen and the freight holds, endured the noise of the engines, and took the chances of explosions, while on the barges behind the elite traveled in luxurious state. Food was brought from the boat kitchen to the barge saloon over a swaying bridge between the vessels and was served with great aplomb under the direction of the barge captain, who was a noble figure in the setting.

The upper decks of the barges were canopied and decked with flowers, with promenades and easy chairs from which to view the scenery. At night the interiors were transformed into sleeping accommodations much the same as a modern Pullman, except that they were more commodious. Not the least attractive feature of these barges, according to a chronicler of their excellence, was "an elegant bar, most sumptuously supplied with all that can be desired by the most fastidious and thirsty."

Recent news dispatches which tell of plans to establish floating cafes on the ocean just outside the three-mile territorial limit when the nation goes dry, indicate that luxurious floating establishments somewhat similar to these "safety barges" may again come into use.

SCIENTIST TELLS OF TRIUMPH

Professor Claims to Have Perfected System for Underground and Submarine Messages.

Speaking recently of his work for the navy, Prof. James R. Rogers, the inventor of a wireless system for underground and submarine transmission, stated: "Six or seven years ago, I began experiments with the transmission of electric impulses by the ground. They were renewed during the war with the aid of the navy, which renders the receiving apparatus more sensitive. I first established contact with nearby points and before long received with perfect distinctness impulses sent from Europe. I placed my antennae in trenches radiating from a center and pointing by the compass toward the distant station from which I wished to receive. I demonstrated to the navy department that eight operators may receive at once from eight separate wires. My system was installed at New Orleans, the Great Lakes station, and Belmar, N. Y., and is now used at the principal wireless stations in the United States. I have found the best results with my wires buried six feet below the surface in damp ground. Some of my experiments were conducted in water 25 to 50 feet deep."—Scientific American.

Monkey as Labor Possibility.

The pig-tailed macaque or brok of the Malays is a highly intelligent animal, and the Malays train them to pick coconuts. The modus operandi is described by R. W. C. Shelford in "A Naturalist in Borneo." A cord is fastened round the monkey's waist and it is led to the coconut palm, which it rapidly climbs. It then lays hold of a nut, and if the owner judges the fruit to be ripe for plucking he shouts to the monkey, which then twists the nut round and round till the stalk is broken and lets it fall to the ground. If the monkey catches hold of an unripe fruit the owner tugs the cord and the monkey tries another. I have seen a brok act as a very efficient fruit picker, although the use of the cord was dispensed with altogether, the monkey being guided by the tones and inflections of his master's voice.

Burgundy at Its Best.

Burgundy wines of 1915 are reported by the most eminent connoisseurs of Paris to be the best since 1865. In fact their verdict is "perfect."

The summer of 1915 was hot, so was the autumn, with light rains now and again at exactly the right intervals. M. Mathieu, celebrated savant on the subject of wines, writes: "Since 1865 there has been no Burgundy like that of 1915 in delicacy or strength. The 1915 vintage is a remarkable synthesis of bouquet, aroma, body and flavor."

But of course all this is of merely academic interest to us.

There does not at first glance seem to be much connection between crime and carpets, says the London Daily Mail, but it is a fact that the decrease in crime brought about in India, as elsewhere, by the war has led to a decrease in the supply of Indian carpets. The reason is that most of these carpets, especially the finer and more expensive kinds, are made by convicts, notably in the great jail at Poona.

They are made entirely by hand, so it is a case of few convicts few carpets.

Hard to Distinguish.

"In Shakespeare's day the liver was thought to be the seat of love." "Maybe the Elizabethans were not so far wrong, after all. The symptoms of love and an acute bilious attack are very similar."

WHY SO LANGUID AND RUN DOWN?

When you are languid and listless or lack energy and ambition and feel so melancholy that life seems scarcely worth living, you need something that will bring back buoyant spirits and that old-time strength of both mind and body that makes you self-reliant again.

Throw off that nervous depression. Begin today by taking Tanlac, the new tonic, appetizer and invigorant.

Tanlac contains the right nerve food, the necessary protein matter and acts as a general tonic by building up your entire system, made weak by the misuse of your vital organs.

The results are really amazing as Tanlac seems to soon make you like old-fashioned people were—strong sturdy and well.

Men and women of unquestioned honesty and integrity testify to its merits daily. The Rev. Jonah Smith, Ph. D., of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said: "I suffered six years without getting relief until I took Tanlac." Tanlac is sold here by Frank J. Johns and Pipers Pharmacy and other leading druggists everywhere.

MODERN METHODS MUST BE ADOPTED

With the government spending millions of dollars annually to make the rivers safer for navigation, steamboatmen are standing idly by and letting other methods of transportation supercede them as freight and commerce carriers, according to Capt. William Blackstock, who recently returned to Pittsburgh from Detroit, where he was helping Henry Ford build his Eagle U-boat chasers. At the present time a working stage of water is available in the Ohio eight months in the year, whereas formerly this period was of only four months' duration.

SAYS BA-HA-NI GAVE NEW LEASE ON LIFE

Brought Real Health
A young Greensburg, Pa., mother praises BA-HA-NI in the highest fashion. She says in part: "I have taken so many laxatives for my condition that nothing seemed to have any effect. Very much worried on account of the little one I was nursing, my husband persuaded me to try BA-HA-NI. He was so pleased with it himself and what a pity I didn't try it sooner! It really gave me a new lease on life and I've forgotten what a sick-headache is like." Try taking one BA-HA-NI tablet with your evening meal and see how soon you're feeling fit. Be free from the agonies caused by constipation and know what it is to have regular bowels and a good sound stomach! For sale by Hemmings Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.

walked away. He had failed when put to the test.

The American colonies did not know Arnold; perhaps he did not know himself until he had opportunity to betray his country. It took the Bedford jail to test the character of Bunyan. It was Bunyan in jail that gave the world "Pilgrim's Progress."

It took the decree of an absolute ruler and a den of lions to prove that Daniel's confidence in God could not be shaken. It took the Civil War and fifty years of careful study to reveal the soul of Lincoln to the world. Marathon and Thermopylae have proved to the world the real character and valor of the Greek soldier.

Possibly nothing less than the World Conflict could have shown the German leaders why their ambitions could not be realized; possibly nothing less could have proven to them and us the real struggle of the American people.

The eyes of the world are now fixed on the church. Theory of a lost world is ringing in our ears. Christ is pleading with his church as never before, "Go ye into all the world." He says to his church as never before, "Ye are the light of the world." Many friends of the church, whose names do not appear on our church records, are ready to help us, because our big program appeals to them.

This is our supreme opportunity. The church is in the balance. Now is the time to prove to ourselves and the world that we mean business—that our love, our faith, our devotion to God and humanity are realities; that our prayers are backed up by ourselves, our money, our all.

Equipment for building the new roadway between Monongahela and Donora is being delivered on the Pennsylvania railroad siding at the old Schoenberger mine in Carroll township. CHARLEROI SOLDIERS WILL JOIN WITH AMERICAN LEGION

Committee were appointed, Chairman, Jack O'Neil, Andrew Houseman, Wm. Bromwich, John Caffeie, all of Charleroi, and Leroy Morris, of Lock No. 4, Bert Osborne, of Twilight, Raymond Carson, of Fallowfield Township, Dino Rosini, of Dunlevy, and Samuel H. Winer, of Roscoe.

It was decided to accept Monongahela's invitation to take part in their Welcome Home celebration, Wednesday, May 28th, and every discharged soldier, sailor and marine from the Charleroi district is invited to don his uniform and join the organization in the parade and chicken supper in honor of returned soldiers.

The organization approved the Memorial Day program planned by the memorial committee, and all men from the Charleroi district are invited to come out in uniform and join in the parade, the exercises to be held in The Pines, in commemoration of those men from this district who gave their lives for the principles of world-wide democracy.

No less than twenty-five million Americans invested in Liberty Bonds during the five campaigns. This adds to the conservative influences which, taken altogether, make the United States a mighty power in the world.

The United States went to the peace conference determined to accept nothing and we have had our wish.

"THE SPIRIT OF MEMORIALS"

As the spring blossoms into summer we feel, some of us, the absence of those dear ones who have passed to "the beyond." We miss their laughter, their kindnesses, their caresses. Ought we not give actual expression to the loving remembrance, in which they are held?

The custom of marking their resting places is as old and as beautiful as the old, old world itself. We cannot honor our loved ones more, nor perpetuate their memory more effectively, than by the erection of a monument. Properly carved, by a master artisan, such a memorial is a lasting tribute to our affection for them.

Is there not some one whose memory deserves this recognition from you?

NORAH CLARK'S BODY IS NOT YET FOUND

Thorough search of the Monongahela river below the dam at lock No. 5 has failed to find the body of Norah Clark, who was accidentally drowned last Sunday evening, when she fell or slipped from the outer guard of the U. S. Engineers' quarter boat, which is located immediately above lock 5. The river has been thoroughly dragged and the work was carried on until the raise caused the searchers to stop.

Mrs. Clark, mother of the girl, was permitted to return to the boat on Monday, but is still in a deeply depressed condition from the sad bereavement. Mrs. Clark and her daughter are known to many people at Lock Four, where they resided for some time.

ELDORA GIRL DIES AT CRESSON SANITORIUM

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillen of Eldora were notified Thursday evening of the death of their daughter, Beatrice, aged 20, which occurred at the sanatorium, Tuesday last. The telegram was sent to Donora Wednesday morning, from where it was sent by mail to Mr. Gillen at Eldora, this process requiring the letter to go to Monongahela and thence by R. D. to his home in Eldora. The body will be brought to the Gillen home at once and the funeral will probably be held on Sunday, with interment in Monongahela cemetery.

MUST INCREASE RATES TO SAVE RAILROADS

Freight rates must be increased 15 per cent if railroad are to be saved from bankruptcy, Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, told the American Iron and Steel Heavy Hardware Association in convention at St. Louis on Wednesday. This increase will be necessary, whether the government or the private owners, said Dunn.

If the insufficiency of revenue for 1919 is relatively as large as it was during the first three months of 1918 and the present passenger and freight rates are continued, the end of the year will find a deficit of five hundred million dollars said Dunn. He expressed the fear that continued government operation would eventuate in still worse conditions. Permanent government operation, he said, will weed out the experienced railroad men still in office and substitute politics and political hirelings.

Charles Muckle, serving in the 29th Division, is now at Camp Stuart, Va., awaiting discharge from the service.
